

Judicial Review of UK Training of Sudan Army in Court

Ali Agab Nour, a Sudanese lawyer and refugee, will challenge the British Government's decision to provide military training to the Sudanese Army in the High Court.

It is well-documented that the Sudanese Army regularly and systematically perpetrate truly appalling human rights violations including mass rape, ethnic cleansing and indiscriminate aerial bombardment. The senior commanders of the army are indicted by the International Criminal Court for crimes against humanity and genocide. The UK is alone amongst western nations in training the army.
